Statement from the Prime Minister of Canada

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the Canada Day Drumming Celebration, hosted by Legacy 150 Celebration Society.

Canadians are a diverse people, made up in large part by people from around the world who have contributed in their unique ways to the building of our country. Canada's identity is built on our multiculturalism, which in part reflects the great diversity of immigrants that arrived over generations.

Thank you to the organizers of today's event and to everyone in attendance who came out to enjoy the festivities.

Please accept my warmest regards and best wishes for a memorable event!
